

Execution Layer, Agent Friction, and the Quiet Architecture

2026-04-29 · 00:06:56

“Purpose-built for agentic AI on your personal devices.”

— LENAR KESS, TODAY'S NARRATION

Today we look at the push toward local execution efficiency with Qwen’s FlashQLA, the stubborn gap between pilot and production in regulated agents via LangChain and Atria, and Paul Graham’s read on legal-tech moats. We close with a look at the mundane friction in dev tooling.
