

The Tethered Agent and the Repository Sale

2026-09-03 / 00:08:33

“Hugging Face will remain an open platform for the entire AI ecosystem. NVIDIA compute will not be required to build on or deploy through Hugging Face.”

— Seln Oriax, today's narration

Nvidia buys Hugging Face for $12.9 billion, while teams at Two Sigma and Composio grind through the identity management and persistent history required to actually run agents in production. We look at K2 Horizon's radically open small models and Meta's production recommender agents.
