

AI Became a Public Claim

2026-06-19 / 00:26:02

“Who gets access is now the policy.”

— Jonas Vale, today's narration

Watch on YouTube

Jonas Vale follows a day when AI power moved through exception lists, public-ownership proposals, classroom restrictions, cyber operations, clinical benchmarks, satellites, humanoid robots, and captured defense hardware.

- Bloomberg on Anthropic Mythos access
- Bernie Sanders on public AI ownership
- AP on the American AI Sovereign Wealth Fund Act
- Reuters on Norway's school AI restrictions
- Sikt on Norway and Finland's AI education service
- Help Net Security on AI agents in cyber operations
- PhysAssistBench
- TxBench-PP
- OpenAI on reinforcement learning for beneficial behavior
- AI Weekly on Gemma 3 onboard Loft Orbital's YAM-9 satellite
- Startup Fortune on Hyundai and Boston Dynamics
- Humanoid robot data standards paper

- Mykhailo Fedorov on TrophyLab

CHAPTERS

00:00:04 The Exception List

00:03:10 The Ownership Claim

00:06:45 The School Boundary

00:10:30 The Cyber Skill Floor

00:14:28 The Medical Reliability Gap

00:18:43 The Sensor Decides First

00:22:58 Captured Hardware Becomes a Platform